TELEGRAMS.

MESSRS. O'BRIEN AND DILLON.

LONDON, November 3rd.

The Irish Societies gave Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon an immense reception on their arrival in New York. Mr. O'Brien read an address stating that the object of their visit was to raise a national fighting fund in order to frustrate the efforts now being made to crush tenants and prevent them combining.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS. The recent Municipal Elections have gone favour of the Liberals.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

THE Russian corvette Craysser, Capt. Rogestwensky, arrived this afternoon from Vladivostock.

DR. DOBERCK, in his weather report for to-day says :- The typhoon continues moving westward in the China Sea.

Among the engagements for to-morrow will be found the Hongkong Jubiles meeting, to be held at the City Hall, at noon.

IT will be seen from our advertising columns that Messrs. Russell and Co, have been appointed agents for the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, one of the most promising societies in the line.

A REGULAR Convocation of St. Andrew's Chapter, No. 218, S.C., will be held Freemasons' Hall, Zetland Street, this evening, at 8 for 8.30 o'clock precisely. Visiting companions are cordially invited.

WE hear that the Hongkong Bus Company have wired to their Sydney friends to send up forty carefully selected horses and fine omnibuses, the latter as per approved plans sent down by the last Australian mail.

WE are informed by the Agents (Messrs. Arnhold Karberg & Co.) that the China Shippers' Mutual S. N. Co.'s steamer Canfa, from London and Liverpool, left Singapore for this port to-day, and may be expected onor about the 19th inst.

THE captaincy of the C. P. S. Co.'s vessel Batavia was to-day transferred by Capt. Williamson (who probably takes the Abyssinia) to Mr. Coleman, first officer, anold Conway boy, and one of the most efficient mariners in the East.

THE German steamer Decima which arrived here yesterday from Bangkok reports having seen a sailing vessel on her beam ends, dismasted and with apparently no person on board, off the coast of Annam while on her downward trip last time.

WE learn that the reason Mr. C. V. Creagh, Governor of British North Borneo, was not received with a salute on arriving here yesterday was that Colonial Governors are not entitled to such outside the waters of the territory over which they have jurisdiction.

THERE was a very satisfactory attendance at the performance of "The Daughter of the Regiment" by Miss Plaisted's Company last evening, and it was fairly successful. The chief attraction, of course, is on Saturday evening, when Lecocq's opera "Manola" will be produced:

THE German steamer Kiel, which has been under charter for sometime past to Messrs. Geo. R. Stevens & Co., running between here and Manila, has been sold recently to a Japanese Company for $80,000 by the Captain, W. Krultzfeld, on behalf of the owners at home.

THE Hon, C. P. Chater's steamship Ardgay (Capt. Cass) has been sold for $150,000 and transferred to Messrs, Jardine, Matheson & Co. The Ardgay sails to-morrow for Salgon under the well-known flag of her new owners, who may be congratulated upon having secured one of the most economical, handy, and sound coasters sailing out of Hongkorg.

WE understand that a telegram has been received from H. E. Sir Wm. Des Vœux to the effect that he and Lady Des Vœux lest London in the Coromandel yesterday, H. E. hopes to arrive here about the sand proxime, and trusts that his friends and the people of Hongkong will be as glad to see H. E. and Lady Des Vosux as they will be to meet the residents.

"SNIPS" on the war-path again! The jobtailors' guild has drawn up a manifesto, to be served upon employers within the next few days. wherein an increase of wages to the tune of I per cent is demanded. Failing to come up to time employes are to desert their work-shops en maise, e.g. shtrike | The labour and capital question will yet cause difficulties in the Orient, as it has in the Occident.

THE Band of the A. & S. Highlanders will play the following programme at the Barrack Square, this evening, commencing at 7 o'clock !--

March...... "Preclota" Devery. Lancers "Indias" Valse "This Alone" Melesler, Polks..... " See ne dance"Solomos. Quadrille "Topey Turvy" Williams. Galop Wlags of Love" Meyder.

THE latest sensation in golf circles at home is the debut of Golf, a weekly paper edited by Mr. A. J. Robertson, who possesses the double qualification of being a keen " hand" and a capable journalist. "The decadence of St. Andrews as a golfing centro" is the title of a lengthy article that will render the publication anything but popular with Fife golfers, we imagine, Golf is well got up and worth the " bob" charged for

THE Chinese job-tailors, having refused to pay an increase of 15 per cent, on the increment to wages usually granted to their employes from the tenth to the end of the twelfth moon of every year, the latter have to-day struck work, and are holding indignation meetings. The strike fever is spreading even amongst Orientals, it would seem; witness the late rumpus in Holhow, when the people shut up shop and carried the day against the mandate of rapacious officials.

Owing to the continued dry weather, prospects for the Sky meeting, definitely fixed for the 29th inst, are not very promising, the course being so very hard that it is dangerous to give porles a training gallop on it. Unless we should get. rain in the meantime, many of the leading sports think it would be better to postpone the meeting for ten days or a fortnight; and pray for a shower, As it is, it would simply be "cruelty" to animals to race ponies on the course in its present condi-

THE GAOL "DEADS."

Mr. Wodehouse held a searching Coroner's inquiry into the circumstances connected with the death of a Chinaman who died in Victoria Gaol a fortnight ago. The jurors were Messrs.

Armstrong, D. Wood, and E. P. Sequelra: Louis Flores, gaol hospital warden, said he made out the list, handed into Court, respecting the punishments of the deceased. The list was made out from memoranda slips of paper which he kept whenever a prisoner was passed by Dr. Marques as fit for punishment. The prisoners mentioned on the slips of paper were sent to the hospital at 8 o'clock every morning and paraded before the doctor. The latter always "ticked off" those who were passed as fit for prescribed punishment, subsequent. which he (the doctor) initialed the list on inspection, any were not passed by the doctor, their names would be carefully noted on the same slips of paper. That was the only record kept of punishments in the gaot. The list of punishments to which the deceased was subjected was as follows :- 8th July 3 days rice and water: 11th July 3 days rice and water; 15th July 3 days rice and water and lose supper, 22nd July 2 days rice and water; 26th July, solitary, rice and water; 28th July, to receive 12 strokes of the rattan; 16th August, 3 days rice and water; 20th August, 3 days rice and water; 24th August, days rice and water; 12th September, 3 days rice and water; 18th Sept., 2 days rice and water; and Sept., a days rice and water; and October 3 days rice and water; 17th October, to lose his supper ; 2'sst October, 3 days rice and water. [His Worship-Some of your memoranda, I observe. are incorrectly entered and do not correspond with the official report sent in by Dr. Marques.] Continuing, witness said he had made mistakes because he was in a hurry. The revised list of punishments was correct, and the man did receive the punishments thereon entered.

W. Johnes, chief warder, said as soon as the prisoners were passed for punishment they were taken by a turnkey named Pond to a certain part of the gaol known as corridor A. 2. In that part of the gaol they were kept for the day, receiving rice and water at half-past six in the morning and at half-past three in the afternoon. Rice and water consisted of 12 ounces of uncooked per diem. Nothing was mixed with was thrown over the top of the man's with, the fears which it raised at the time "chow." It was a regulation of the gaol that subsequent upon being put upon rice and water for three days, the maximum. prisoner must be put on full rations for not less than one day prior to being subjected to reduced diet again. The rule relating to that was No. 272 of Gaol Regulations, of 31st May 1800. The doctor passed the prisoners between 9 and 10 a.m. therefore they would have had the morning meal prior to medical inspection. When soiltary confinement was given in addition to rice and water, it meant that the prisoner was kept in dark cell for the prescribed period. The solitary confinement commenced at 6 a.m., and the inspection by the doctor would be conducted in the cell, "thereby the solitary confinement would not be broken. The ordinary meal for a prisoner "in " for six months with hard labour was a pound of rice, an ounce of oil. 4 ozs. of fresh fish and 3 ozs. of salt fish three days a week, and t or, of chutney. Two ounces would be deducted from the allowance of rice and be made into congec, a pint of, congec to be served at midday. On Saturday and Sunday ordinary prisoners had nothing but sice to cat. The "loss of supper" meant the deduction of a full meal from the day's allowance. If a prisoner committed an offence in the afternoon he would be punished at once by with holding his supper from him. But he would not be brought before Major Dempster, the Superintendent, until the following morning because the "super" did not reside at the Gaol. On the zath October deceased was sentenced by the "super" to 12 strokes of the rattan, but was not passed by the doctor as fit for corporal punishment. The following day, the 25th of October, he went into the gaol hospital, being unfit for work. It was i fact that on the and of October the descased was

Charles Nielsen, turnkey, sald he had to look after the crank labour and record the work done. .During the last week of October the deceased (No. 399) went on crank labour and was on full diet. He did 1,500 revolutions on the 11th of October; but on the 11st he was put on punishment diet, rice and water. For refusing to work on the 24th of October he was put en "short commons." The absolutely refused to work, and gave no reason

Mr. Armstrong. Wasn't he sick when he refused to work the crank? Witness-He didn't say so.

At this juncture his Worship adjourned the inquiry until next Wednesday.

THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

The following portion of the proceedings at yesterday's Council was ornitted from last night's.

THE CATTLE DISEASES, SLAUGHTER-HOUSES,

AND MARKETS AMENDMENT BILL : 1/2 The Acting Attorney-General-I beg to move the second reading of a bill to amend the Cattle Diseases, Slaughter-Houses, and Markets Ordinance of 1887. The real object of bringing forward this bill is to prevent adulteration of food and that is dealt within in section 4. When considered this matter I found the original Ordinance had already been amended by two Third reading of the Bill entitled "An Ordin- Ordinances in 1889, namely 9 and 21, and is view of the reprinting of the Ordinance I thought respect to the Alteration of their Memoranda of | it well to repeal these two and re-enact them in I this Ordinance so as to have one Ordinance instead of three or four. I have therefore repealed Ordinances 9 and 21 of 1889, and re-enacted in section 3 what they enacted. With respect to adulteration, I have simply added the word "adulterated" to Section 24 of Ordinance 17 of 1887. Section 24 of that Ordinance read. "No person shall keep, sell or expose for sale or bring into the colony or into any market any food for man or beast which is in an unwholesome condition or unfit for use." One or two alterations were made subsequently, but the question of adulteration was left out partly through inattention and partly from the fact that it was thought that the subject of adulteration of food would be dealt with in the Public Health Ordinance then under consideration. Doubts have arisen as to whether the provisions of the Public Health Ordinance are sufficient, and I therefore introduced the word "adulteration" into the section, which now reads-"No person shall sell or expose for sale or bring into the colony or into any market any food for man in a tainted, adulterated, or unwholesome state, or which is unfit for use, under a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars and the forfeiture of the sald food." Section 5 has been freshly added, and is as follows :- "The words 'food for man' shall include every article used for food or drink by man other than drugs

The Acting Colonial Secretary seconded, and the Bill was read a second time.

THE CHINESE EMIGRATION AMENDMENT BILL. The Acting Attorney-General-I beg to move the second reading of a bill to amend the Chinese Emigration Consolidation Ordinance of 1889. The object of this bill is to punish stowaways and persons aiding or abetting them. As Council is aware, there is a very heavy penalty in Australia on ships which bring Chinese there in excess of a certain number. A very small number is allowed by Australian legislation on the subject, and in a recent case it was found that certain officers on board a ship had, with the connivance of a Chinese hong, taken down three or four slowaways or perhaps more. view of the very heavy polltax there is in Australia and the advantages the Chinese find when they get there, it appears that it does pay aiders and abettors to endeavour to smuggle Chinese Into Australian colonies contrary to the provisions of their laws. When the question came to be considered here, it was found that although stowaways might be punished there was no power or law to punish those who, I take it, are the principal offenders, those who aid and abet them. To meet this defect therefore I propose to introduce the provisions of the English Passenger Act of 1885, which punishes any person found on board a passenger ship, with intent to obtain a passage therein without the consent of the captain, owner or charterer, and every person aiding or abetting him. The penalty at first was fig. and this was afterwards increased, to £25, but considering the very heavy penalty in the Australian colonies, amounting, I believe, to fit,000, I thought the English penalty was not sufficient for this colony, and therefore I have made the penalty $500, or in default six months, imprisonment with or without hard labour.

The Acting Colonial Secretary seconded. Bill read a second time. THE PUBLIC HEALTH AMENDMENT BILL. The Acting Attorney-General-I beg to move the second reading of a Bill to amend the Public Health Ordinance of 1887. This Bill, Sir, has been introduced in order to amend certain sections of the Public Health Ordinance of 1887. which experience gained in the working of that measure has proved to be necessary in order to improve these sections, to make them more useful or to render their enforcement more speedy. I may remind hon, members that the old Ordinance of 1887 was the first attempt in this colony, to introduce in any systematic shape or form enactments relating to the public health of the colony; and as I had the honour to be in charge of that measure when it passed the Counthe rice except a "pinch" of salt, which cil, I shall not easily forget the opposition it met passed into law, or the concessions which had to be made in order to allay the opposition which met us on all sides. It was a tentative measure and one beset with difficulties. Now, the people of Hongkong, like the people everywhere else, had to be educated on this subject. At a recent meeting in Birmingham of the British Medical Association, one of the leading members, speak ing of the great progress made in England in respect to this question, said that people had to be educated in this matter, and that they now accepted readily and as a matter course, and admitted the necessity usefulness of measures which when firs suggested they looked upon as arbitrary vexatious and an invasion of public rights and public property, and he added that the Englishman's boast that his house was his castle had entirely disappeared "before the visits of the health officer or the intrusion of the nuisance inspector." Since this Ordinance has been put in force the Government and the public owe a debt of gratitude to the members of the Sanitary Board for the time given in working out this Ordinance for the interest taken in their work, and for the zeal shown in carrying out their powers; and from the experience which the public has gained, and from the knowledge of the spirit in which these members have exercised their powers, I am perfectly sure the public now would have no reason whatever to oppose any further extension of these powers. In order to show what has been done and what may still be done in the way of sanitary improvement, I would like to quote a statement made at, the meeting of the British Medical Association at Birmingham; Dr. Alfred Hill, Medical Officer of Health for Birmingham and President of the Public Medicia Section, said-"The active revival of sanitary work may be regarded as having taken place in 1873, and a glance at the death rates either of the country generally or of the aggregate of the twenty largest towns in England or the same towns individually proves that within the last seventeen years there has been a great improvement in every instance in the public health, as marked by the decline in the death rates. But notwithstanding the fall of the death rates generally most of the large towns have a death | till Monday next at 2.30 p.m. rate which ought not to satisfy the health officer or the health doctor. Two hundred years ago if a person had predicted that the then death rate of London of 80 per 1,000, would have been reduced to 20 per 1,000 the statement would have excited only ridicule. But it cannot be said that the limit of improvement is reached or that the resources of preventive medicine are exhausted. On the contrary, there is good reason to believe that almost quite as much remains to be. done as has already been accomplished." In presence of these statements I think we ought to do everything we can to improve this Ordinance, which, as I have already stated, was a tentative measure, and to give members of the Sanitary Board such further powers as they have reported are necessary for the carrying out; of their work. "Sections 40 to 48, which it is proposed should be repealed, deal with matters of drainage, which can easily be provided for and have already been provided for by by-laws. The advantage of relegating these details to by-laws is that experience proves that if any better method can be adopted in the "defective or insanitary." The principal pro- | festice in a court of law.

vision of the amending Ordinance is Section 3. which says-" The Board may from time to time delegate to the Sanitary Superintendent all or any of the powers conferred upon it by sections 17, 18, 19, 36 and 53. The Board may revoke such delegations at pleasure." By these sections certain powers were given to the Board which the Board only can exercise. Now as the Board meets as a rule only once a fortnight, very great delay may take place, and where a nuisance. exists it may take a month or so to remove it. To give this Council an instance. Section 17 says-" It shall be lawful for the Board, on reasonable presumption of the existence of a nuisance on any premises, by an order in writing to authorise any sanitary officer to enter such premises at any time between six in the morning and six in the evening and to inspect the same." Well, if notice it received of the existence of a nuisance, under this section it would be necessary to assemble the whole Board. Again section 18 says-"On the receipt of any information respecting the existence of a nuisance, the Board shall If satisfied of the existence of a nuisance, serve a notice on the person by whose act, default or sufferance, the nuisance arises or continues. or if such person cannot be found, on the owner or occupier of the premises on which the nuisance arises, requiring him to abate the same within a time to be specified in the notice; and to execute such works and do such things as may be necessary for the purpose." Well, sir, these are matters which can very well be left to one of the officers of the Board, and at the suggestion of the Board it is proposed that the Board may delegate these powers and a few others to the Sanitary Superintendent. is another matter which, though not mentioned in this proposed Ordinance, I should like to mention; it is with regard to overcrowding. That question has lately engaged the attention of the Board, and they have taken very great pains with it, but they report that they are unable to deal with it on account of the wording of this Ordinance. 24 of 1887. I have still a very lively recollection of the great fears which this question of legisation for overcrowding aroused, and to allay these fears and stop opposition certain words were added to the section which deals with overcrowding, as follows-" This section shall apply only to such districts as may from time to time be designated by an order of the Governor in Council," As no such order has to come to the Governor in Council from time to time to get certain districts proclaimed. It may be that when we go into committee at the next meeting that I shall have to introduce some amendment in respect to this section. The Acting Colonial Secretary seconded.

The Acting Attorney-General-I beg to move the second reading of a bill to amend the Arms Ordinance of 1880. That Ordinance, amended and repealed what I may call the original Arms Ordinance which was introduced on the recommendation of a committee, composed of Si George Phillippo, Mr. Bulkeley Johnson and one or two others, about what was commonly known as the blockade of Hongkong, and with respect to the smuggling into China of oplum, sait and other articles, and one of the recommendations of the committee was that the assembling of armed bands on the frontier of China should be prohibited. They considered that, looking at all the facts, it would only be a friendly act on the part of the colony to prevent the asseme bling of such armed bands, and therefore the Arms Ordinance was introduced. It was not desired to make that Ordinance more stringent than was thought necessary, and therefore it was only the carrying of arms that was prohibited, but experience has shown that that is not sufficient: and in presence of what has, taken place from time to time-far oftener than it should have taken place-it has been found necessary to amend that Ordinance and to give greater powers of search for arms. This bill has therefore been proposed, the object of which is to give power to a Police Magistrate to grant a warrant to any police officer who has reason to suspect that any person has in his possession, custody or control, or concealed in any building or ship, arms or ammunition intended to be used in arming bands of three or more Chinese, to enter at any hour of the day or night and rearch such building or ship, not being a ship of war or having the status of one, and selze the arms found there. Section 3 enacts the penalty of a fine of $50, or in default six weeks' imprisonment against any person found in possession of such arms.

-The Acting Colonial Secretary seconded. His Excellency-The Attorney-General has mentioned the object of this short bill. I may add that I sincerely hope that the measure will have the effect, to some extent, of preventing the smuggling that now goes on from this colony into China, Several cases have occurred recently of armed bands forcing themselves into Chinese territory, resulting in the loss of life and serious wounding, and I do think that it is the duty of this colony to do all it can to prevent such results. I think it is to the interest of this colony, as well as to the interest of China, that we should have recourse to every means in our power to prevent smuggling into China, and I think furthermore that it is our duty. in consequence of the several treaties between England and China to take these steps. To prevent smuggling altogether would be very difficult, but when we have brought to our knowledge the attacks of these armed bands from time to time and the loss of life; that takes place, it is certainly our duty to consider every means with the object of preventing these results, and it may be that the power to search for arms given in this Ordinance, in addition to those already possessed, may in some degree prevent these occurrences.

The Supplementary Appropriation Bill 1880 was read a third time, and the Council adjourned

> THE POWDER MAGAZINE EXPLOSIONS IN THE NORTH.

Writing from Wuhn to the N. C. Daily News on the 5th inst., the Rev. J. Walley, of the Methodist Episcopal Mission, says :-Taipingfu, in the Anhul province, has just been the scene of a terrible disaster. A special messenger brought word that the powder imagazine had been blown up, causing great damage to life and property. Making hasty preparations we hurried to the scene of the disaster. in The town was in a terrible conditions scarcely a single house had escaped injury in some form, many being entirely blown away or burnt to the ground, and everywhere scattered over with fragments of tiles, bricks and rafters. The Prefect's yamen was much damaged, while the Prefect himself was so seriously hurt that he died the next morning. The yamen of the District Magistrate, is entirely destroyed, the walls having been blown outward allowing the roofs to fall flat down. The Confucian temple. one of the largest buildings in the city, has scarcely a whole tile left on its roof, while many of its walls are so, shaken as to require rebuilding. Of the magazine itself not a whole brick remains ; where it stood is now a hole about 20 feet deep and 60 or 70 feet wide. The ground in all directions is scorched and blackened by the flames, and the whole place looks as though had passed through a slege, Report says there were 2,000 or 3,000 piculs of powder stored in the magazine, besides a large quantity of shet and arms. During the explosion shot of various sizes, from solbs, downwards, were scattered in all directions, doing great damage. In the compound of the Methodist Episcopal Mission, half a mile away from the scene of the explosion, a dozen or more of balls of various sizes were picked up, while the building liself was greatly shot at "The Pillars" 30 11 away. The concussion was felt at Wuhu, a distance of over 15 miles. No one seems to know the cause of the explosion, as all the people at the magazine, as well as some workmen, were all killed ; part of one body being found to if away. As may be imagined, great distress reigns throughout the town, Many of the lighter cases were attended to at once by Dr. Stuart and Miss Funk, while the more serious ones were sent by boat to the General Hospital at Wuhu. The N. C. Daily News of Saturday last tells of another catastrophe :-About a forinight ago, a fearful gunpowder explosion occurred at Pechow, a town in Anhul.

explosion, but there were about fifty people crime. Two of their number have however under a mandarin at the powder-mills where the explosion occurred, and they were all absolutely annihilated. An immense portion of the city, including the district magistrate's yamen, was demolished, as was also the mission of the Jesuits, which was between two and three miles distant from the mills. A portion of a cannon, between two and three feet long, fell through the roof of the mission, and a large stone fell in the mission enclosure, burying itself in the ground. Many people were killed, the number being estimated at three hundred.

GOLD FIND AT PUNJOM.

Mr. Jolly, of Punjom, arrived at Singapore on the 1st instant by the Glangei, says the Free Press, bringing with him a few specimens from a lode which has been come upon in the course of the explorations going on at one of the workings at Bukit Slam, on Ketchau. Specimens can be got, as we all know, from many places in Pahang, and they may mean no more than they can say for themselves. But a couple in the city, and sent several memorials to the of these that Mr. Jolly has brought to Singa- Throne on the successful management of the pore are as fine as anything we have Yellow River difficulties. Notwithstanding this, seen from Pahang. The largest specimen the distress in various districts from the floods is about the size of the fist, and large crumbs is more and more apparent, and a gloomy winter and flakes of free coarse gold lie all over it, and is in prospect. If any relief is given, it will have run through its texture. The second largest to come in all probability from the Chinese specimen was picked up in the dark by Mr. Jolly, themselves. The officials make no mention of level about 60 ft. from the mouth and 30 ft. along here. Reports from natives elsewhere indicate the hanging wall of a quartz reef exposed. Oa coming upon this rich find Mr. Leembruggen, who is in charge in the absence of Mr. Thomas. went to Punjom to report to Mr. Hardie, and get advice. Mr. Jolly returned with him, saw the place, and advised that the exposed gold-bearing stone, on the roof and upper side of the level, be left undisturbed till Mr. Thomas's return and in the meantime that the level should be continued and a cross-cut made through the reef, about feet thick here just beneath where the gold occurred. The part of the roof and side-wall where the gold is abundantly visible is therefore to stand as it is until it is examined in situ and in Ichowiu, where they purchased property for authoritatively reported on.

It remains for Mr. Becher's miners to ascertain by further workings the extent of this strike. The difficulty of course lies in the question whether that sort of stuff be got in quantity. Nothing more can be said than this. There is more of the same stuff visible, but how much more cannot be known till the order to cut into it is given.

The specimens may now be seen at Mr. Becher's office in D'Almeida Street, and, are wel worth inspection.

CHINESE JUSTICE.

The N. C. Daily News, in its notes from "Native Papers," gives the following interesting 'account of a crime and its punishment :--The Governor of Kiangsu reports the result of the trial of a number of villagers belonging to the Feng district near Shanghai who, as earlier reported in the pages of the Gazette, in March 1889 attacked and burnt to death a party of soldiers, 14 in all, belonging to the salt administration service. The facts of the case were as follows :-- Hungmiao and other places along the coast in the above-named district, being much frequented by smugglers, the villagers had arranged a system of mutual protection, under which on an alarm of thieves being raised, gongs were to be beaten, and everyone living in the neighbourhood was to turn out, and come to the rescue. This being a salt-producing locality many of the villagers combine with their other occupations that of drying salt, and there is consequently a considerable amount of petty smuggling going on throughout the district, a circumstance which the soldiers of the salt administration had frequently taken advantage of to levy blackmail on the inhabitants. Early on the morning of the 1sth March, 1889, a party of 14 preventive officers belonging to the Salt Department were passing by Hungmiso when they spied a heap of salt lying at the door of one of the houses. Assuming it to be contraband, they landed and knocked at the door, but the owner was out, and his wife replied that there was no one at home. The soldiers thereupon announced their intention of carrying off the salt, but offered to allow her to redeem it. Suspecting them to be thieves the woman went to the back-door and gave the pre-arranged signal by sounding a gong. Whilst the soldiers were removing the salt to their boats, the villagers began to come up and a fierce fight ensued. The soldiers were speedily outnumbered, and were soon all stretched senseless on the ground, but in the confusion of the melée it was impossible to say by whom the blows had been struck. Whilst this was the position of affairs, a man named Keng-k'an, who had been previously arrested by the soldiers on a trumped-up charge of smuggling, and left tied up in one of the boats, began to shout out for assistance. One the villagers went on board to release him, and seeing the uniforms and flags lying in the bottom of the boat, discovered for the first time that the supposed pirates were really preventive officers. Going back to the villagers he said that the row had already assumed serious proportions, and if the affair came to the knowledge of the military officials, they would have a hard time of it. He accordingly suggested that the best thing they could do under the circumstances would be to burn the boats and the soldiers in them, and so remove all traces of the occurrence. By so doing they could at the same time avenge themselves on the soldiers for the many acts of extertion they had suffered at their hands. All present agreed to this, and, leaving twenty of their number to keep watch, a party of over thirty villagers carried the senseless soldiers. to the boats, which they dragged to the mouth of the river, and there set them on are. Maying burnt the boats and everything in them, they threw the remains into the sea in order to destroy all vestiges of their crime,

The facts having come to the knowledge of the authorities, several arrests were made, and after the usual hearings in the lower courts the case came before memorialist for final revision. The following are, he finds, the provisions of the law applicable to the present case. (1) For the murder of three persons, not members of one family, the punishment is immediate decapitation. Where several persons contrive an affray in the course of which an individual is killed, the person who inflicted the severest blow or wound shall be strangled after the usual period of confinement. Those not actually taking part in it shall be punished with 100 blows and perpetual banishment to a distance of 3,000 14.

Under the first of these provisions, one of the criminals, whose case is aggravated by the fact that he had never had blackmail levied on him by the soldiers, is sentenced to decapitation and in addition to have his head exposed at the scene of his crime. As he has already committed sulcide by drowning himself in the river, this sentence will be carried out by causing his corpse to be dismembered, and the head stuck up on a Four others are sentenced under the second of the above provisions to be strangled, and that course, nothing known as to the cause of the | respite, on account of the lawless ferocity of their already died in prison. Four others are liable as accessories to 100 blows and perpetual banishment to a distance of 3,000 Il, which punishment is for the same reason increased to the atmost extent allowed by the law, by imposing on them a sentence of too blows and perpetual banishment to the extreme frontiers to a distance of fully 4,000 li. The tipae who though fully aware of the smuggling carried on by the villagers and of the acts of extortion practised by the preventive officers, yet failed to make any report thereof to the authorities, is liable under the law relating to impropriety of conduct, to 80 blows, which punishment he escapes however in virtue of the recent act of amnesty .- Rescript: Let the Board of Punishments report hereon immediately.

CHINANFU.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT. October 19th.

For the last few weeks the Governor has been who selected it by its evident high specific any great distress, and so far as the Chinese of this city are concerned, no one would suppose The gold-carrying stone was come upon in the people were suffering within a hundred miles of the true situation. One underling in connection with the Magistrate's yam'n has lately been starved to death. owing to a fiendish effort on his part and the part of others to extort money from a man in the south suburb, whom they fastened up to a tree and burnt with incense, till various things were confessed to them and money secured. The neighbours and others, hearing of the outrage, reported it to the Governor, and the guilty man was thus punished to pacify their rage. Some time since we learned of opposition being raised against Mohammedans in a village the erection of a mosque. Thus Christians are not the only ones opposed by the intolerant Confucian-Buddhist-Taoist Chinaman,

One of the missionaries has lately secured for two chapels in the district of Ch'ang-ch'ing near to this city an official proclamation, a translation of which I herewith give :- " Concerning the 'issue of a proclamation, in accordance with a letter received from the American missionary, Mr. Reid, stating that within the last few years in the limits of the district, in the two villages of Chelchiachuang and Chingyangshu, Protestant chapels have been established and the peace preserved between the converts and the people and, requesting that a proclamation be issued for the information of the people, therefore a proclamation is herewith issued, informing the people of these places; that said chapels are found on examination to be engaged in teaching righteousness and not to interfere in other matters, and furthermore that the right is contained in the treaties and has been in operation for a long time. Let the people and converts know that they must as heretofore be at peace and in friendly harmonious relations, that they must not stir up suspicions and envy or arouse disturbance. any one dares to disobey, he will be severely punished, without any pardon, etc., etc."

Nearly all the American Presbyterian missionaries are just leaving for their annual mission meeting, to be held at the foreign compound outside of Weihlen

The Rev. Mr. James, of the English Baptist Mission, has returned to the city from his long absence. A deputation the Baptist Society is reported on the way out to examine the work of its missionaries who live in this province in the three stations of Chinchowfu, Chowp'ing and Chinanfu. The work of this Mission is about the most satisfactory in the province, and will werthily repay the inspection of this delegation

The German Bishop in the south-west of the province has left for Europe on important

The German Minister is asking contributions for helping the distressed in the south-west of this province, to be placed in the hands of the German bishop. So far as we can see other objects are considered and simed at than the mere relief of the most famishing. Still, as Protestant missionaries have distributed relief and received aid to their missionary work, there is no reason why the Roman Catholics should not also adopt the scheme. N. C. Dally News.
